Dear Ray,

Now that the IndeBleu project is nearing completion, I just wanted to take a moment and share how pleased we were with the performance of your staff. In particular, Jim Varner provided an extremely high level of competence, customer service and attention to detail. The huge amount of time he spent on the job, his constant availability, proactive manner and his ability to deal professionally with all the different entities involved in this projects is one of the reasons we feel we were able to open for business on our target date. We look forward to future projects with your team.

Regards,
